About Me

I am an ambitious and detail-oriented undergraduate pursuing a BSc (Hons) in Full-Stack Software Engineering at Birmingham City University (via Java Institute, Sri Lanka). I specialize in developing scalable web and desktop applications using both front-end and back-end technologies. With a strong foundation in Java, JavaScript, PHP, and MySQL, I bring practical experience in software development, UI/UX design, and team collaboration. I am driven to deliver high-quality solutions and continuously enhance my technical and analytical skills.
